Iran: Release Narges Mohammadi

Your Excellency Ayatollah Sadegh Larijani,

Narges Mohammadi received a 16-year prison sentence after she was convicted, following an unfair trial in April 2016, of the charges of "founding an illegal group", "gathering and colluding to commit crimes against national security", and "spreading propaganda against the system". She was already serving a six-year prison sentence from a previous case. Her convictions are based solely on her peaceful human rights work including campaigning for justice, gender equality, and against the death penalty. Narges Mohammadi has several serious health conditions, needs daily medication, and ongoing specialized medical care, which she cannot receive in prison.

I urge you to:

- Release Narges Mohammadi immediately and unconditionally, as she is a prisoner of conscience, held solely for her peaceful human rights work;
- Allow her regular visits and phone calls from her family, including her children, as well as contact with a lawyer of her own choosing;
- Ensure that, pending her release, she is provided with adequate health care outside prison, and has ongoing access to a qualified health professional to provide health care in compliance with medical ethics, including the principles of confidentiality, autonomy, and informed consent.
