

Canada: Speak up for Rights in Mexico

To: Hon. Chrystia Freeland, Canada's Minister of Foreign Affairs

Mexico is experiencing a grave, escalating human rights crisis. Reports of disappearances, torture, violations of Indigenous rights, violence against women, and attacks on journalists and human rights defenders have multiplied in Mexico amidst lack of investigation, justice or effective protection of human rights. We urge you to use Canada's close relationship with Mexico to express strong concern about unacceptable human rights violations and press for implementation of the recommendations of UN and OAS human rights experts. We also urge strengthened, visible support by Canada for human rights defenders in Mexico.
